Various Reports and Rumors

[illegible] reported by every arrival at the port are confirmed by

The Daily Oregonian.

FRIDAY MORNING AUGUST [illegible]

North Carolina

[illegible] North Carolina has [illegible] one Republican majority [illegible] the majority being [illegible] The Legislature [illegible] Democratic [illegible] The returns [illegible] 1870 and the [illegible] of [illegible] striking [illegible] to disfranchise [illegible] it has fallen into [illegible] ing to have [illegible] hemp-bran[illegible] antees that State to Grant and Wilson and presages [illegible] Southern States

By the victory in North Carolina the fight for the remainder of the campaign will made easier It is a severe blow to the Greeley faction and lets the wind out of their inflated efforts to carry the day by a campaign of bursting and brag Of course their organs will continue to assert that Greeley's election is sure and day after day they will give us stories of men in Buckram who have left the Republicans and joined the Greeley ranks, but this will be harmless employment and in a short time all the illusions which it nourishes will be dissipated

Greeley and Lincoln

It may not be generally known that in the second Lincoln campaign Greeley was one of Lincoln's opponents, tried to get him off the ticket after he was nominated, and never advocated his election till his success was assured beyond a doubt Yet such is the fact After Lincoln's nomination in 1864 Greeley tried to get up a third party to secure his defeat. To bring this about he addressed the following letter to the Governors of loyal States. It caused much comment at the time

New York, Sep 22 1864

Hon. ——

Your Excellency The undersigned have been requested by a body of influential Democrats to communicate with the loyal Governors for the purpose of eliciting replies to the following

1. In your judgment, is the re election of Mr Lincoln a probability?

2. In your judgment can your own State be carried for Mr Lincoln?

3. In your judgment, do the interests of the Union party, and if so of the country, require the substitution of some new candidate in the place of Mr. Lincoln?

In making the queries we give no opinion of our own, and request yours only for the most private and confidential use

Yours truly, Horace Greeley,
Editor of the Tribune (and two others)

The responses to this circular were contrary to Greeley's hopes The loyal masses of the country stood by Lincoln But Greeley could not see the solid grounds for popular confidence in him. He is now making a similar mistake in regard to Grant In 1864 Greeley was willing to risk the overthrow of the Republican party, and the consequent peril of the country for trivial, or else for unworthy, motives He is equally ready now.

There is another fact It will be remembered that in 1864 Greeley importuned Lincoln to let him go to Canada to negotiate with rebel agents as to terms of peace These agents were Jacob Thompson, Clement C. Clay and George N Saunders The negotiations came to nothing, as Mr Lincoln had foreseen But it appears from the Confederate archives, just published that these same men, Thompson, Clay and Saunders were at that very time organizing schemes of insurrection throughout the Northern States, and working with all their energy to alienate the country from Lincoln and cause his defeat The defeat of Lincoln they held would be equivalent to a great Confederate victory, and the peace conference which they solicited and which Greeley urged Lincoln to grant was one of the preliminaries for making the North tired of the war and for contributing to the overthrow of the Administration in the elections.

Thus it appears that Greeley was working against Lincoln at the very time when the Confederate Government and its agents in Canada were also putting forth special efforts to defeat him, under the conviction that such a result, if it could be brought about, would be an immense advantage to their cause While it does not follow, and while we would not charge, that Greeley was knowingly and intentionally playing into the hands of these men and betraying his country, yet it does follow that they did, at that time, in opposing Lincoln and attempting to organize a party to beat him after he was nominated was not such as to commend him to the American people as a man to whom the destinies of the country should now be intrusted He is now seeking the Presidency Is it prudent to elevate to that position a man whose past career would have ruined the country had they not been checked?

Greeley's Success on Record

We hear that in several parts of Oregon Greeley's supporters are denying that the great Chappaquack ever advocated secession But here is the exact language which appeared over the signature of G in the New York Tribune of January 24 1861

As to secession I have repeatedly said, and here repeat, that if the People of the slave States, or the cotton States alone, really wish to get out of the Union I am for letting them out as soon as their action can be peacefully and constitutionally attained But their case can not be so presented as to require that the President or Ambassador retire to fold his flag and pocket his credentials to require it If they will only be patient and not rush to seize Federal forts, arsenals, armies and subtreasuries, but take first deliberately a fair vote by ballot of their own citizens, none being coerced or intimidated, and the vote shall indicate a settled resolve to get out of the Union, I will do all I can to help them out at an early day

Foiled in one direction in their assertions that Grant's courage is the issue, they have given him by Thomas Murphy the assassinations press now take another course The Herald now copies from Examiner and Chronicle that A T Stewart was asked to subscribe $50 000 for the purchase of the bolt on Long Branch and that when he sent Leipper there with eight subscribers to [illegible] amended slander and [illegible] mendacity, and [illegible] its predecessor On [illegible] the Herald works with [illegible] fishing all the [illegible] fabricated by contributors and [illegible] country

All over the [illegible] and Committees [illegible] dresses and [illegible] ry" in North Carolina Now that the Sun is known to be Republican by [illegible] ty the disappointment of the Greeleyites is as bitter as their former elation and excessive

Big B

There s them that eats all they can and brags about it
And them that drinks whiskey by the quart
And brags as how they can lick their weight in wildcats
Or any man that comes down the pike
If he puts his hand to his bow
Or scrapes his fiddle
Or rides only to thy waist
To see if you like a race
And the way he herds cows
Nobody knows but who was around
Till Big Bill goes and does somethin
The blood over on his hand

At school he kicked his master
Coorse he fit all seven of em
And the hearse and a spare one was
A little ways from his door
There was them that says he died of fever
As the coroners return will show
But we had Big Bill we was present
And that was enough for us

And now Big Bill s an ake —
Damn em makes me sad
Just when he was ready to be righteous,
The poor fellow had died
A thievin and sneakin Yankee
But the start of one blessed Bill
And there s no one to dare to call him
And nobody left to kill

Henry Clay and James Buchanan

[From Harper s Magazine

Mr Clay, of all men relished a personal discussion—a duel, with words for the weapons He excelled in philippic and retort and never flinched when he met an antagonist who could give as well as take He was merciless in a skirmish of this kind, and had no hesitation in alluding to physical defects or natural infirmities of any description His indulged frequently in coarse pleasantries and unsparing ridicule Mr Buchanan was his pet aversion, and he expressed his dislike in season and out of season. Mr Buchanan had a defect in his sight, a sort of wall eye or cross-eye, which gave him the appearance of obliquity of vision. On one occasion, when the Democrats were in the majority Mr Clay complained of some act of Mr Wright, alluding to him as the 'leader of the Senate' From the spot where Mr Clay was standing Mr Wright and Mr Buchanan were nearly in a range in one semicircle Mr Buchanan rose to reply, supposing himself to have been referred to Mr Clay, with an expression on his face compounded of derision and contempt, said "Mr President, the Senator from Pennsylvania is giving himself a deal of unnecessary trouble I made no allusion to him, Sir I spoke of the leader of the Senate," pointing unmistakably to Mr Wright

Mr Buchanan, with much embarrassment, hastily rejoined "Mr President, I did not intend to allude, to myself any such disposition I make no pretension to be the leader of the Senate [" I should hope not" muttered Mr Clay, without rising] but the Senator from Kentucky certainly looked at me

"No, Mr. President, I did nothing of the kind It was not that I looked at the Senator, (here he held his hands up, making a circle with two fingers,) it was the way the Senator looked at me '

At another time Mr Clay and Mr Buchanan fell into a controversial discussion in which personalities were freely interchanged Mr Clay at last alluded to some transaction involving Mr. Buchanan, much to that gentleman s embarrassment, who hesitated and stammered, but, finally recovering himself, said he could retort upon the Senator from Kentucky, and intimated that he could reveal a secret that he would not like to have made public, hinting at something which was understood by Mr Clay

"No, sir, not a word' That subject is taboo "

"But the Senator has spoken of my private affairs, and I must be allowed a similar liberty"

"Proceed, sir, ' said Mr Clay, but understand that you proceed at your peril—your peril!"

Mr Buchanan sank into his seat, turning the color of his cravat, without uttering an other word.

The steamship Ajax is announced to sail to-morrow evening, for San Francisco

Trade is rather inactive At the present season it is usually more or less so. People in the interior are busy with their harvest, and it is too soon for orders for goods for Fall and Winter Trade.

We are not able to make a more favorable report concerning prices of Wheat than we have presented hereto fore. Both at Liverpool and San Francisco the market shows no improvement In California there is vast pressure to sell, and the tonnage is unequal to the demand In Oregon are still rising in consequence and latest charters at San Francisco for vessels to load Wheat for Liverpool are £4 5s. Vessels are in demand for the coasting trade, and high freights are offered for Lumber and Coal Under these circumstances we need not expect the release of any vessels from San Francisco to load Wheat here, and the tonnage now headed this way is entirely inadequate to carry our surplus to a foreign market

The tendency to high prices in all articles manufactured of Iron continues Hardware of all descriptions and Bar Iron and Steel, show no signs of weakening prices Coals are operating in England which produces a steady employment of value of all articles manufactured of Iron or Steel Great Britain still has vast beds of Coal, but the repeated strikes the higher wages of the miners, the increased cost of carriage, together with the perpetual apprehensions of exhaustion, have so raised the price that manufacturers and scientific men are turning their attention to other means of raising steam and working machinery, so as to intercept the government in their income The great strike now going on in the English building trade is also producing a marked effect upon every other interest, and in materials used by builders and artisans long, or should be in a measure and will unnecessarily force up the price of many articles, but nothing even the necessaries of life to the distress, more or less extended, of the general trade of the kingdom These are causes of the great advance in England, and as they still continue in operation it is difficult, if not impossible, to form any idea of the future of the Iron and Steel business.

Domestic Exchange.

WHEAT—There is nothing encouraging in the Wheat market. It is believed that prices must recede still further Buyers are not disposed to offer more than $1 25 per cental for Club, Valley, and holders manifest little disposition to make concessions to meet these views.

FLOUR—Transactions are confined mainly to the local trade We have no change to make in quotations yet as it is believed prices must soon yield under the pressure of Wheat on the market. Standard brands still quotable at $6 75 @ $7 00. Choice brands, $4 50@5 50

OATS—Prices are without change since last week be ing $1 75 to $1 80 per cental, or about 60c per bushel Oats in paste of Oregon are again a light crop, and there will be no hope for export

POTATOES—Market is abundantly supplied Good will bring 1c@1½c ₱ lb. Total are a more abundant crop this season than for several years

ONIONS—Onions are in considerable supply at 2c per lb

BUTTER AND CHEESE—Extra choice Butter is in better supply, and will bring 37½c Common to good 18@20c Derry's Cheese is on the market a good article, at 18c ₱ lb

EGGS Market somewhat weaker Sales to-day at 37c per dozen

HAY—Good Timothy quotable at $15@20 per ton Wild Hay 12

BACON—Eastern is still on the market in large quantities. No Oregon is coming forward. Sides quotable at 14@15c Hams 16@18c Shoulders 11c Lard 14@15c.

DRIED FRUIT—Market very dull Apples quotable at 7c ₱ lb. Plums, without pits at 12c ₱ lb

WOOL—Market lifeless. No transactions to note Last advices from San Francisco quote Oregon Wool at 20@25c ₱ lb It would not be possible to sell here at any rate—not those figures

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

The Republican Party of the United States assembled in National Convention, in the City of Philadelphia, on the anniversary of the birth of the Father of his Country, and the day on which he first officially assumed the duties of the Executive, in the year 1789, and the year of the Declaration of Independence, 1776, do hereby declare and publish the following principles as the platform upon which they appeal to the American people for their support

1 We recognize the equality of all men before the law, and hold that it is the duty of the Government in its intercourse with its citizens to know no distinction of race, color, or previous condition of servitude; but to conform in spirit and practice to the sublime principles of human equality proclaimed in the Declaration of Independence

2 We hold that the work of reconstruction is not completed until the full political rights guaranteed by the Constitution to all the citizens of the United States are effectually secured in every State and Territory of the Union, and we demand that the Government, in the fulfillment of its constitutional obligations, shall see to it that no State, by the action of her people or Legislature, shall deny to any citizen, on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude, the full and equal enjoyment of any right or privilege conferred upon him by the Constitution of the United States

3 The recent amendments to the National Constitution should be cordially sustained inasmuch as they are now a part of the supreme law of the land, and the right of citizens to vote, thus established, should be carefully guarded by such legislation as may be necessary, and by the vigilance of the Republican party, so that no State can, directly or indirectly, deny or abridge that right on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude

4 The Republican party proposes to respect all rights reserved by the people to themselves as carefully as it does powers delegated by them to the State and Territorial governments It disapproves of assertion by constituted authorities for the purpose of removing or modifying the interference with rights not surrendered by the people to the State or National Government

5 It is the duty of the General Government to adopt such measures as will tend to encourage American commerce and ship-building

6 We believe that the modest but intelligent exercise, for specific purposes, sound judgment practical wisdom and incorruptible integrity and firm serious purpose of U S Grant have commended him to the love of the American people and with him at our head we enter to-day on a new march to victory

We shall continue to DRAW EXCHANGE as usual on all the principal cities of the United States the Canadas and Europe and have no hesitation in saying that confidently expect that our excellent and cheap currency will be perfected by a speedy resumption to specie payment

14 The Republican party is mindful of its obligations to the loyal women of America for their noble devotion to the cause of freedom their sympathy for our soldiers to further usefulness is received with satisfaction and the honest demands of any class of citizens for additional rights should be treated with respectful consideration

15 We heartily approve of the action of Congress in granting amnesty to those engaged in the rebellion and rejoice in the growth of peace and fraternal feeling throughout the land

16 The Republican party proposes to respect all rights reserved by the people to themselves as carefully as it does powers delegated by them to the State and Territorial governments It disapproves of assertion by constituted authorities for the purpose of removing or modifying the interference with rights not surrendered by the people to the State or National Government

17 It is the duty of the General Government to adopt such measures as will tend to encourage American commerce and ship-building

18 We believe that the modest but intelligent exercise, for specific purposes, sound judgment practical wisdom and incorruptible integrity and firm serious purpose of U S Grant have commended him to the love of the American people and with him at our head we enter to-day on a new march to victory
